Divine Delay Level #2

29 January 2024

My reflection in level #2 was that there are times when God will intervene, such as how the apostle Paul described the book of Ephesians. Dr. Kevin Zadai laid the proper foundation in level #1, but in level #2 he speaks about seeking the kingdom first and teaching on the importance of intervention.

He also went on to expose the deception in Christian circles that say you can't have a devil when you're a believer, but Peter was a believer and the devil spoke through him to Jesus when Jesus had to rebuke him.

God also comes in and intervenes on our behalf even in times that we don't know it. Therefore we should always thank Jesus for everything he does for us that we don't know about. Because God is going to come in for us in a divine delay—Dr. Kevin Zadai said, which was a great encouragement to me.

You also have to wait for intervention sometimes because God is well-coordinated, and we need to make a clean cut from the world and be separated unto The Lord. These are good statements made by Dr. Kevin Zadai. Yet at the same time, Christians began to have devil problems whenever they let their guard down. Because Christians should not have a devil problem, but the devil should have a Christian problem.

On the other hand, Jesus is the head of the body, not your local church. Your local church is not the head of the body of Christ like they falsely think they are. It's unfortunate in these modern times that churches like to welcome everybody, or at least they say they do, but when you become a member, they put restrictions on you (they bind you), and before you know it, they are exposed for being leaders who just want your money and not your loving fellowship. But what else is new in the world? When men quench The Holy Spirit, men complicate things and manipulate congregations to get what they want.

You also encounter delays because people are not being obedient. This upset me, because I felt like God was calling people in the church to help me get a job associated with my gifts and calling, but those people were disobedient, and they never helped me, which forced me to settle for a job outside of my calling, causing a divine delay—I was so angry over this result. Yet God will judge...
