

Anthony J. Rubi
Dr. Kevin Zadai, Instructor
Understanding Prophetic Flow Level #1
11 February 2024

I liked these lessons because, between the years of 2015 - 2020, I was heavily engaged in evangelism ministry training, but once that five-year season ended in my life, I felt like I suddenly got hurled toward prophetic ministry training, which was a blessing in disguise because my pastor was a backstabbing, unbelieving cessationist, who did more to oppress prophetic ministries in his church than he did to encourage them.

Therefore you have no idea how grateful I am for these video lessons, these table talks provided me with something that I was never able to get at my church. Throughout the years, I was unconsciously trained to believe by my church leaders that prophesy was a dirty word, maybe that assumption was coming from the prophetic oppressing demons that were controlling those pastors, but we'll find out at the judgment seat someday. Until then, I give God the glory for these prophetic flow video lessons.

Dr. Kevin Zadai said that it's hard to talk about these issues, but I think that it's harder to talk about them when you're surrounded by Christian unbelievers in your church. Either way, I think it helps to have boundaries against cessationist Christian unbelieving musicians as well. Whatever the diagnosis may be, it helps to be transparent and have public conversations about all these concerns within the body of Christ.

When you have surrender, it's being obedient to what God is showing you. We need to posture our hearts to what God is telling us to do, in honor of each other. I like that statement, on how we need to be considerate toward others—but it's just a paraphrase of loving God and your neighbors as yourself.